Chris Devonshire-Ellis

Founder

Dezan Shira & Associates

Mr. Devonshire-Ellis is the founder of Dezan Shira & Associates. Established in 1992 and now in its twenty-first year, services mid-market multi-national clients, specializing in foreign direct investment. This includes advising on legal structures and incorporation procedures, due diligence, financial investment planning, tax planning, country comparisons, and post incorporation work such as accounting, tax filing, bookkeeping and audit.

Continuing a 26-year career based in Asia, including 20 years in mainland China and much of 2012 in the United States, Chris is now based in Singapore. He is responsible for the development of the practice in Singapore and throughout ASEAN, including provision of tax treaty and investment advice for foreign investors throughout the region, including American, European, Indian and Chinese companies looking to invest in China, India, ASEAN and emerging Asia.

In 1999, Mr. Devonshire-Ellis founded the Asia Briefing publishing house with its well-received China Briefing magazines and books concerning matters of Chinese business law and tax. These were followed by similar publications in India and Vietnam, and now also includes other titles within the Asia region. Asia Briefing continues to provide independent business commentary, legal, tax and regulatory updates across all countries in Asia.
